THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE

The New Alumnae Loyalty Fund

Appeal 1955-56

WHEN YOU OPEN this magazine the new Loyalty Fund year will be starting on September 1st.

"It opens with great hopes—all founded on your participation—for our best annual gift year. The envelope inserted in this magazine is for your use in sending in your gift. The amount? Whatever you can give and want to give for the coming year to higher education.

"You probably give to your church and to several good public causes because you believe in them. Are you ready to back up with equal promptness and generosity your belief in Wesleyan College and first-rate liberal education? Do you think the world needs more liberal arts graduates, more people who successfully combine intellectual and religious strength? The Alumnae Loyalty Fund is your annual chance to translate your belief into action.

"Whatever the size of your gift, it will be welcome and will be used toward a greater Wesleyan College. Just send it, and send it as soon as you can. Your support for the new year is needed and is eagerly anticipated."

You may direct the use of your gift to any one of several ways:

For the new auditorium.

For the Candler Memorial Library.

For general alumnae scholarships.

If your gift is $5.00 It is equal to a permanent endowment of	$125.00
If $10.00	$250.00
If $25.00	$625.00

For one of the special funds such as Phi Delta Phi, Zeta Tau Alpha, Class, or Atlanta Club Fund.

For YOUR OWN scholarship which you may name as you please with a gift of $100.00 or more.

For YOUR OWN ENDOWED scholarship which can be founded with a gift of $1000.00 or more and augmented each year as you wish.

THE CENTURY CLUB

All alumnae contributing $100.00 or more to any of the above funds will receive special recognition as members of The Century Club.

Thanks again to those who contributed to the 1954-55 Loyalty Fund. Watch for the annual report from the Alumnae Office listing all names.

The 116th Annual Commencement and the Alumnae Weekend

The Alumnae of the Oldest Chartered College for Women in the World honor the Oldest Women's Organization in the World

ON June 4 at Pierce Chapel 53 seniors lighted their candles from burning tapers held by that many alumnae of their own choosing. Freda (Kaplan) Nadler, president of the Alumnae Association, charged each one, as did Catherine Brewer Benson, the first graduate of Wesleyan, speaking to the class of 1888 when they were seniors: "Members of the graduating class, demands will be made upon you which were not made upon us. Your training, if you are true to it, will amply qualify you to meet these demands. No wiser blessing could I make for you than that you may be true to every God-appointed work."

Freda Nadler, for the third and her last time as president, lead the seniors in the responsive reading that packed into a few words the entire history of an Alumnae Association that will be 100 years old itself in 1959.

Thus the 1955 graduates were inducted into the Alumnae Association during what could have been the last alumnae day program held on the old campus.

Past Presidents Honored

The Wesleyan alumnae joined the three million members in the United States and 65 other countries in celebrating the centennial of the Y.W.C.A. and in so doing honored the past presidents of the campus "Y" started in 1897.

Miss Guthrie Speaks

Miss Anne Guthrie of New York City, representative for the International Alliance of Women and secretary of the Speakers' Research Committee of the United Nations following more than 20 year spent in Y.W.C.A. work on three continents, was the alumnae day speaker. She spoke emphatically to the seniors, our youngest alumnae, of the very different world into which they were going.

"Just as the women of vision from their drawing rooms in England, in those early days following the Crimean War, 100 years ago, saw opportunity in the very midst of danger, and made the small beginnings that started the Young Womens Christian Association, so can you as you enter the atomic age in this second century. We have created such capacity to destroy that we are terrified at the thought. This is the world you are going out into—a world of crises."

"Every crisis," Miss Guthrie said, "represents danger and opportunity. We are faced in this world today with danger of hunger—still in two-thirds of the world—danger of disease, danger of iron-curtain slavery. We are indebted to Communism in one way because before it was a threat to us we were totally indifferent about Democracy. Now we think about Democracy more. This gives us greater opportunity."

Miss Guthrie urged the newest alumnae present to "keep on learning and to consider this truly a Commencement; to have understanding; to have patience about trying to change the world; to have courage, intellectual courage to stand for what you believe when others disagree; to have more love." She said, "The love you give your Alma Mater is precious and is not hard to give. But we must stretch our capacity for loving out not only to our home, community, state and nation, but to the entire world."

"We must enlarge our cup of love," Miss Guthrie stressed, "in this world of crisis so as to see not only the dangers but to see the opportunities as well. May you graduates of 1955 continue the spirit of love that I have found here in this historic chapel."

New Officers Elected

The new slate of national officers of the Alumnae Association were elected unanimously and introduced as follows: Irene (Sewell) Hobby, '22, president; Cornelia (Adams) Heath, '13, first vice president; Virginia (Scott) Estes, '37, second vice president; Ernestine Bledsoe, '33, fourth vice president; Margaret Richards, '24, secretary; Ruth (Hall) Knox, '40, treasurer; member at large of Board of Managers, Annie (Gantt) Anderson, '13; and Lucia (Chappell) Domingos, '18, '19, alumnae trustee.

Commencement Speaker

Mr. S. Kendrick Guernsey, B.S., LL.D., of the Gulf Life Insurance Company of

Jacksonville, Fla., and a Trustee of Wesleyan College, addressed the 53 seniors receiving degrees. Of this number 35 received Bachelor of Arts; 2, Bachelor of Science; 9, Bachelor of Music; and 7, Bachelor of Fine Arts.

Honors and Awards

Five seniors, all magna cum laude graduates, were elected to membership in Phi Delta Phi, a liberal arts honor society, as follows: Carolyn Gleaton, Harriette (Stripling) Graham, Jane McCain, Joyce Reddick, and Elizabeth Wilson. Four seniors, all magna cum laude graduates, were elected to membership in Mu Alpha Omega, the honor society for the School of Fine Arts, as follows: Gayle (Attaway) Findlay, Phyllis Clough, Helen Hendley, and Frances Moulthrop.

Cum laude graduates were: Lucille Fossum, Sarah Hope McGee, Elizabeth Fortson Truitt, Betty Anne Upchurch, Roberta (Owen) Taylor, Barbara Louise Brown, Neva (Langley) Fickling, Carole Broadwell, Barbara Ketterbaugh, Mary Kathryn Kientz.

The Marion Luse Chenery prize for excellence in music was divided equally between Helen Hendley and Frances Moulthrop. The Ross-Walker Award for outstanding ability in spoken or written English went to Bettie Wilson, '56.

Open House Follows Luncheon

Dr. and Mrs. B. Joseph Martin welcomed the returning alumnae to "Magnolia Hill," the new home of the president, Saturday afternoon following the alumnae luncheon. The home, adjacent to the golf course, was given to the College by the Bradley and Turner families of Columbus, Ga., through the W.C. and Sarah H. Bradley Foundation. The gift was announced on Alumnae Day, 1954, but since that time the home has been redecorated.

A Letter to The Alumnae

by Irene (Sewell) Hobby, Chairman Wesleyan College Historical Society

Dear Friends:

I come in the pages of our own magazine to bring you the hopes and ambitions of the Wesleyan College Historical Society which will not only preserve the glories of Wesleyan's past but will add new luster, new progress, new success to Wesleyan College of today. Certainly no daughter of Wesleyan has any ambition greater than to see her in the forefront of colleges where she is destined to be. To that end we must exert our energies.

Space does not permit detailed accounts of the various efforts of the past year in behalf of Old Wesleyan, but abbreviated mention will give an idea of the progress:

May 1954: Resolution passed by Group 3, Atlanta Wesleyan Alumnae Club for "investigating possibility of preserving Old Wesleyan." Said resolution passed by Atlanta Club for presentation at annual alumnae meeting at Commencement. There it was enthusiastically adopted. Later Freda (Kaplan) Nadler, alumnae president, appointed committee with Irene (Sewell) Hobby, alumnae secretary, as chairman.

June 23, 1954: Advisory committee inspected Old Wesleyan and visited Mr. Baxter Jones, Trustee of Wesleyan.

Oct. 14, 1954: Alumnae Board of Managers voted to request a meeting with the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees for permission to engage an architect to inspect the main building and the chapel for structural soundness.

Nov. 30, 1954: At 11:00 a.m. the committee met at Old Wesleyan and voted to adopt name of Wesleyan College Historical Society. At noon the Executive Committee of Wesleyan Trustees joined the alumnae committee and granted request to engage architect.

Jan. 21, 1955: Committee met at Atlanta Woman's Club. Proposed constitutional changes making Historical Society's director become third vice-president of Wesleyan College Alumnae Association. Maybelle (Jones) Dewey was elected director-elect to assume office when old building had been acquired for alumnae use. The proposed changes in constitution were published in May issue and accepted on Alumnae Day.

Feb. 26, 1955: Mr. H. Eugene Williams of Logan and Williams, Architects, was engaged to inspect building. Report showed structural soundness with new roof needed. The alumnae are indebted to Mr. Williams who made inspection without charge.

Mar. 10, 1955: Report made at Wesleyan

Alumnae Council meeting in Macon.

April 22, 1955: Committee met at Atlanta Woman's Club. Voted advisory group visit Dr. Martin to consider architect's report, enlist his cooperation, and submit to him letter written by committee to be sent to Board of Trustees.

April 25, 1955: Visit to Dr. Martin; support obtained. He offered to mail letter to each trustee with accompanying one from himself.

May 9, 1955: Presented cause to annual meeting of Board of Trustees. They voted for the Board to go on record as approving the request of the alumnae provided the finances can be worked out by the Finance and Executive Committees, the Executive Committee to have the power to act, accept, reject or modify.

May 23, 1955: Advisory group visited Mr. Leo Huckabee, chairman of the Board, in his office.

May 30, 1955: Visit to Mr. William Banks and Mr. Dan Manget in Newnan where purchase of old Wesleyan by alumnae was suggested.

June 1, 1955: Visit to Wesleyan to interview Mr. Huckabee and Dr. Martin regarding possibility of purchase.

June 3, 1955: Above report presented to alumnae Friday night at Commencement. Straw vote 5 to 1 that Board of Managers further consider purchase.

July 5, 1955: Representatives of Atlanta and Macon alumnae met in Macon; interchanged ideas. Unanimous agreement that next step was to assure trustees through Mr. Huckabee, chairman, of the alumnae support in coming campaign; that there is no urgency for decision, but that the alumnae will appreciate being kept informed; that alumnae will be waiting for Historical Committee meeting with Executive Committee, Board of Trustees.

Below is the letter sent to the Board of Trustees. If later consideration of purchase seems impractical, the use of the building as outlined in letter for five years with privilege of renewal will be pursued. The hearts and minds of many daughters of Wesleyan are centered in the success of these hopes and aims, and we trust we are on our way to a happy realization of each one. What are your thoughts regarding Old Wesleyan? Do write me.

Sincerely yours,
Irene (Sewell) Hobby, Mrs. A. W.

The Board of Trustees,
Wesleyan College
Macon, Georgia

Our dear Sirs:

As chairmen of the Alumnae Committee for the Preservation of Old Wesleyan, we are coming to you to ask that you grant to the Alumnae the privilege of using the main building for an Alumnae House. We are not interested, at present, in that portion which is now being used by the College as residences for members of the faculty or that portion allotted for studios for the teaching of piano. When the contract with Mulberry Church has expired, we would like the opportunity to consider the developing of a dining room reminiscent of the Old South. We would also like to preserve the chapel as a fine piece of architecture—hoping and believing that some one will assist in this project, especially in rebuilding the steps as were the original ones.

We ask for this building for the following reasons:

I—We are fundamentally and primarily interested in the continued successful growth of Wesleyan College. We believe Old Wesleyan, with her historic background, is a potential resource for new and national interest which will, in turn, draw more students to the Rivoli campus.

II—We plan to develop the building as an historic shrine. It is our firm conviction that if in New England, Virginia, Pennsylvania, it could be said that the first diploma ever awarded to a woman from a chartered college was given in a certain building—that building would have been an historic spot from early years. Looking to this end, we will have the full co-operation of the Georgia Historical Association which is even now, ready to put up a bronze plaque, giving the high lights of Wesleyan history, on the property at their expense. At the unveiling of this plaque, it is planned to have a ceremony attended by the Governor, the Attorney General and large group of those interested in Georgia's historical development.

III—As early as is possible, we plan to open the building to tourist sight-seers. Already we are thinking in terms of displays of historic value in the fine old rooms. Agreement has been made to list the building in the State Historical Tours Map and also in the one published by the gasoline companies. We also believe that the State Garden Club will include it on

Reunion Time a Happy Time

The fourteen Golden Anniversary girls of 1905, back for Alumnae Day, eight of whom came Friday to stay in the dormitory, received certificates of welcome after fifty years of love, loyalty and service to the Oldest and Best. These were presented on the stage of Pierce Chapel Saturday morning.

Reunion time for these alumnae was a happy time and nothing was too good for them. They were given the choicest rooms on second floor Persons; their table at dinner Friday night (and they almost filled one entire table!) was next to the speaker's table; and Doc Howell's projector and screen was set up in the student lounge ready for the slides taken of their class prophesy. Miss Margie Burks, president of the class of 1905, read the prophesy as Prof. "Pop" Daniel operated the machine.

Mary Jo (Carmichael) Funderburk, 1905 class treasurer, made the presentation Saturday morning of the $247.50 love gift to the College.

All other alumnae returning for the weekend were housed in Wortham Hall.

The Atlanta Alumnae Club gave $350.00 to be added to the Atlanta Club Endowed Fund; the Macon Club, three $100.00 scholarships for 1955-56. The Silver Anniversary Class of 1930 gave $70.00.

"Tommie" Maxwell Speaks

Friday night, June 3, the Anderson dining room was a festive scene with the head table in the shape of a "U" set in the center of the long room. On either side and in front were arranged the tables marked for the following reunioners: Golden Anniversary 1905, Silver Anniversary 1930, 1906, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1941, 1942, 1943, and 1944.

Celeste (Copelan) Williams, A.B. 1925, introduced the speaker, Mary Thomas "Tommie" Maxwell, A.B. 1924, and Dean of Women at G.S.C.W., Milledgeville, with the following poem and with apologies to "Davey Crockett":

"Mary Thomas Maxwell wasn't born on a mountain top in Tennessee, She didn't kill a ba'r when she was only three. But she did enter Wesleyan a number of years ago And was President of her class in 1924. While a student in the college, we all thought she was a queen, But somehow we didn't realize that some day she'd be a Dean. But with her good looks, personality and charm, No wonder she made such a success as a school marni. So Dean Maxwell it's a privilege for me, and I'm sure all the rest,

To welcome you back to the Oldest and Best.

We are proud of you, love you, and to hear you talk will be a treat For you are such a grand person, you can't be beat."

"Here We Go 'Round the Prickly Path," a quote from T. S. Eliot, was the subject used by Tommie Maxwell. She said, "This circling might be called our three weaknesses as follows: first, our appreciation of the superficial and our failure to continue to study so as to recognize these surface values; second, our self-aggrandizement; and third, our demand for one more freedom, the freedom from pain."

Tommie stressed quite forcefully that if the world is to be saved today it must come by forgetfulness of self in service to others. She said, "We all believe in rules and regulations and laws as long as they do not interfere with ourselves. We would be better off if we accepted the problems of the world as ours and attacked them with determination and sincerity."

In closing she stated, "I am sure Wesleyan has given us or introduced us to humility. As alumnae of this College I hope we can recognize our responsibilities and meet them with an attitude of dignity and acknowledge the pain that goes with all the good."

Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Pafford Honored

The alumnae honored Mrs. Inez Gray and Mrs. B. A. Pafford Friday night after the dinner and presented each with a silver bowl in recognition of their long service to Wesleyan. Mrs. Pafford after eight years is retiring to make her home in Decatur. Mrs. Gray after fourteen years will make her home in Milledgeville as a House Mother at G.S.C.W.

"Tommie" Maxwell

its tours. We feel that if 151,749 tourists paid to climb Kennesaw Mountain Park in 1954, a goodly number would be interested in a historic shrine of the Old South.

IV—Immediately we plan to begin the gathering together of all possible data concerning Wesleyan from 1836 forward. Not only that immediately concerning the College, but that of general events of those early days and accounts of the lives of many outstanding men and women who were instrumental in laying the foundations of our College of today. It is hoped that these items will develop into a published history of Wesleyan—long past due.

V—We are interested in only the campus immediately around the building. This we hope to develop into a beauty spot reminiscent of the early days, and for this we hope to enlist the co-operation of the local, state and national garden clubs. We have reason to believe we can.

VI—The report from a prominent Atlanta architect states that the building is structurally sound and that, aside from the roof, other improvements can be made progressively. He also states that a new roof will cost from $3,000.00 to $5,000.00. The Alumnae have on deposit with Macon Federal Savings and Loan and otherwise invested the sum of $22,000.00 which was accumulated many years ago toward the building of a house—the dream of which succumbed to depression and war. This, by vote of the Alumnae, would be available for immediate needs.

VII—Wesleyan Alumnae have never had a home of their own as have so many other colleges. There has never been a place where they could feel free to come and go. The dormitories, always crowded, have made alumnae visiting undesirable and difficult from the College standpoint. We feel their own house will be a great factor in bringing the Alumnae into closer formation and much more a part of the College and its interests.

VIII—In the final analysis, the ambition of all of us is to help Wesleyan in her efforts to educate our fine young people and, as money may accrue, it shall become an Alumnae Endowment Fund for the benefit of Wesleyan College. To this we shall give our time, talents and resources.

If the plans and purposes herein stated can not be carried out to the satisfaction of both Alumnae and College, the buildings will be returned in far better condition than at present.

Respectfully submitted,

(Mrs. A.W.) Irene Sewell Hobby, Chm.
(Mrs. M.H.) Maybelle Jonse Dewey,

Co-Chm.

MYRA MIZELL WILLIAMS SCHOLARSHIP HONORING HER GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

The Folkston Methodist Church and the Belle-Myra Bible Class set aside Sunday, June 26, as a special day honoring Myra Mizell Williams on her 70th birthday and her graduation from Wesleyan College in class of 1905.

Following the service the presentation of a $500.00 scholarship named in honor of Myra Mizell Williams, their faithful teacher, was made by Mrs. M. A. Gay, president of the class.

Dr. B. Joseph Martin, president of Wesleyan, brought an inspiring message to the large congregation and added homage to one of Wesleyan's daughters. The pews for the class members were marked with lavender and purple ribbons, and ushers wore the Wesleyan colors too.

This scholarship will be added to from time to time until it is the minimum of $1000.00 for an endowed scholarship.

Rev. Sam A. Douthit, pastor, Dr. Martin, Myra (Mizell) Williams, Mrs. M. A. Gay

ALUMNAE PUBLICATIONS

Just Jennie—reviewed by Jennie (Loyall) Anderson.

Mary Culler White, AB 1891, Journalism student 1925-26, celebrated her 80th birthday on May 12, this year with the publication of her second delightful biography, JUST JENNIE, giving in story form the life of Virginia M. Atkinson, who went to China a young missionary of twenty-two in 1884.

Since this was only six years after the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was authorized in 1878 in Atlanta, and since Miss Atkinson remained in China until 1940, this book crystalizes in permanent form the progressive story of the teacher and missionaries that we have known in Southern Methodism through these critical years of China's history.

Susan Cornish—reviewed by Mrs. Luther Harman.

Susan Cornish, Rebecca (Caudill) Ayars' latest book is the best piece of work that she has done. Most of her delightful stories have been for and about children. Susan is a bit older, eighteen, to be exact. She left college because "when she asked honest questions she got less than honest answers." When she was appointed the teacher of Pickwill Mill School by the political boss of the county she stepped into a new world, although the school was not far from her home.

Just as Miss Mary Culler's first biography gave through the life of Alice Culler Cobb the pioneer efforts of the education of Christian womanhood at Wesleyan, Miss Atkinson's biography gives this same story in China.

Miss Mary Culler gives us this message incidentally in her bright and sparkling manner, and we at Wesleyan are grateful that in these two biographies we have a revelation of the warm heart and personality and keen mind of the author, a remarkable Wesleyan woman who made herself beloved in China, where she went as a Missionary in 1901, as she is in her own country where she continues to make an outstanding contribution.

The way Susan found herself and brought new life to the community; the way the citizens of that little mountain village "came to themselves" and claimed their American heritage, make an entertaining story. But it is a thought-provoking story too. Rebecca Caudill's attitudes are clear and precise; unequivocally and unambiguously for the minority groups, for fair play and tolerance. Like all good novels, this one gives the reader a feeling of having lived with people he would like to know more about.

Gifts to the Library

A Treasury of Grand Opera, edited by Henry W. Simon, in memory of Jane (Cater) Sargent, has been given to the Candler Library by Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bleckley of Macon, Ga. "Here are the stories, the histories, the stage pictures, and the principal music of seven master-works of grand opera," Katharine P. Carnes says, and "each time this book passes through our hands we will remember Jane Cater of long ago, a girl who loved music herself."

Early Days of Costal Georgia by Margaret Davis Cate has been placed in the Candler Library by the Macon alumnae of Alpha Delta Pi in memory of the late Ida (Fraser) Turrentine, 1873.

Additions to the Campbell Art Collection

"Clear Fall Day," oil painting by Lawrence R. McCoy of Manchester-in-the-Mountains, Vermont, arrived on the Wesleyan campus in May. Mr. McCoy's success and widespread recognition as a painter of both portraits and landscapes has been most sensational since he retired 15 years ago as president of a Worcester lumber concern. At 67 he is now a prize-winning artist. His "I Remember Mama," oil portrait of blonde contemplative teenager, won first jury award from the Academic Artists' Association in 1952. He has won prizes every year since 1948 and two prizes from National Arts Club in 1953. He is a member of the Southern Vermont Artists, Inc., American Veterans' Society, Copley Society of Boston, Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts, Florida Artists Group, Inc., National Arts Club, and others.

This painting is the work of a vital personality who apparently loves life and people. We are very proud to add this work of art to the Wesleyan College Campbell Art Collection.

"George Bernard Shaw," an original drawing by the late S. J. Woolf, was sent to the collection in May by Mrs. Woolf of New York City. No doubt, many remember Mr. Woolf's fine portrait drawings that ran for years in the New York Times. He interviewed famous people in this country and abroad, and some of his drawings have been published in book form. We are grateful to Mrs. Woolf and proud to add this work to our Collection at Wesleyan College.

ATLANTA CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The new officers for the Atlanta Wesleyan Alumnae Club for next two years were elected at the luncheon meeting held on May 28 at the Woman's Club. The new president is Mildred (Gower) Sims, A.B. 1927.

Other officers to serve with her are: Mary Jean (Chapman) Paris, '34, vice president; Marjorie Perkins, '51, recording secretary; Mary (Hall) Hearin, '43, treasurer; Bettijo (Hogan) Cook, '48, corresponding secretary; Katherine (Ellison) Yundt, '48, publicity; D. B. (Barge) Eros, '46, hospitality; Robertine (Belcher) Skipper, '25, registrar; Mary (Rudisill) Trippe, '33, auditor; Rosaline (Jenkins) Gilmore, '19, parliamentarian.

Linda Lane, pianist, and member of the faculty of the Fine Arts School, gave a 30-minute program. With her as a guest was her mother, Linda (Anderson) Lane, '19, of Macon.

Wesleyan's New Ceramics Building

On May 9 the new ceramics building, formerly known as the Wesleyan Pharm, across the highway from the entrance to the Rivoli campus, was opened to the public as well as the exhibition of the four major students.

Beginning with the fall semester, all the work of the Ceramic Art Department will be carried on in this building. The large floor space and the modern facilities will make this the finest ceramic art department in the Southeast.

CLASS NOTES

Clara (Wight) Wilson of Albany, as far as alumnae records show, is the oldest living alumna of Wesleyan, being 99 years young on October 21, 1954. She is remarkably interested in world affairs, her church, and home, and we extend to her our best wishes.

1882

Mary (Jones) Anderson has enjoyed corresponding with some of her former classmates this year. She writes, "I grow fonder and fonder of Wesleyan as the years go by. My mother too graduated from Wesleyan."

1883

The public was invited to the organ recital dedicated to the late Dorothy (Blount) Lamar at the First Presbyterian Church shortly after her death. The occasion was the celebration of the completion of additions to the organ which had originally been given to the church by Miss Dollie as a memorial to her husband.

1887

Sympathy is extended to Annie (Anderson) McKay in the unexpected death of her son, Robert Albert McKay, in April. Dorothy (McKay) Bollendonk, '28, is a sister, and Jo Banks (McKay) Sheftall, '44, Mary (McKay) Stephan, '49, and Anne (McKay) Garriss, '51, are nieces.

Jessie (Munroe) Dickey is proud of her new great-granddaughter, Mary Elizabeth, born to Jessie (Jones) Whittemore, '40. Annie (Dickey) Jones, '13, is the baby's grandmother.

Kate (Davidson) Roberts of Cincinnati, Ohio, enjoyed visiting in May her daughter and daughter-in-law, Martha (Middlebrooks) Roberts, '26, in Atlanta.

Minnie (Edwards) Akerman passed away June 11. Sympathy is extended to her daughter, Margaret (Akerman) Menard, 1916.

Maggie (Bell) Burdick has a new great-grandson born March 14.

Sympathy is extended to Pearl (Lester) Toole in the death of her husband, Charles Julian Toole, Sr. in May.

Hattie (Saussy) Saussy passed away June 1. No one knew how ill she was when she last visited the College for Arbor Day, March 10.

Addie (Smith) Munro passed away June 15, 1955. Sympathy is extended to her daughters, Martha (Munro) Lightner, '29, Maurine (Munro) Mauldin, '24, and Ida Matilda (Munro) Murray, '15, Joanna (Mauldin) Johnson, '51, is a granddaughter.

Lorena (Whelchel) Barksdale has six grandchildren, three in Atlanta, one in Iowa, one in New York and one in North Africa. Although she makes long visits to her children, she continues to call Washington, Ga. "home".

1892

Lila Cabaniss spent several weeks in Washington, D. C., in June visiting her sister and niece.

Rosa Taylor, recipient in 1954 of an alumnae award for distinguished achievement, died in Macon in April.

1894

Sympathy is extended to Alice (Burr) Leonard in the death of her son in April.

1896

Eva Arnold writes (with her loyalty Fund gift), "I usually take my gift to commencement, but I have been sick all year, and will not be able to go." Her address is Devereux, Ga.

Victoria Evans passed away in May. She had served as librarian in her home town, Ashburn, Ga., for 20 years, and the library was named in her honor in 1954. Sympathy is extended to her sister, Ella Mae (Evans) Rogers, '04.

The Alumnae Office has just learned of the death of Leola Armstrong, 1882. Sympathy is extended to Lina Armstrong in her double sorrow, for she lost a dear brother also in April. She writes "I am all alone now."

1898

The Alumnae Office has just learned of the death, some time ago, of Margaret King (Persons) McGehee.

1902

Although Annie (Daniel) Brown has been a widow since 1946, she is not allowed to feel lonely. She has two stepsons, a son and daughter, and seven grandchildren. The older step-son, Nathan Atkinson Brown, Jr., has recently retired with the rank of Lt. Col., after a long term of service.

1903

Camille (Lamar) Roberts has a new granddaughter, born in Montreal, Canada, where her son, Dr. Lamar Roberts, lives.

Nina (Wooten) Duncan passed away June 22. Sympathy is extended to her daughter, Bess (Duncan) Crittenden, 1933, and her sister, Carrie (Wooten) Cooper, 1902.

Lucy (Candler) Leide attended two concerts of the American Symphony of New York, when her husband, Enrico Leide, conducted.

1905

Sympathy is extended to Mary Munerlyn (English) Solomon in the loss of her husband in May. He was the son of the late beloved alumna, Lillian (Roberts) Solomon, and the brother of Lillian (Solomon) Roberts, 1905, Elizabeth (Solomon) Smith, 1911, and Frances (Solomon) Baskin, 1920, Betty (Dubose) Solomon, 1937, and Patricia (Childs) Solomon, 1944, are daughters-in-law.

Kathleen (Roberts) Winn entertained her three grandchildren and the grandchildren of some of her former classmates and friends with a house party at her home in Valdosta in June.

Martha (Lewis) Kaderly's son, who holds the A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees, has been appointed associate professor of English at Mercer University.

1907

Mattie (Chappell) Lawton and her husband went to their summer home at Dillard, Ga., June 1. They will be there until Nov. 1.

Clare McKellar was a member of the Christian Advocate Tour of Hawaii. While making a night flight over an erupting volcano, air pockets formed by the 2,000 degree heat made the plane sway so wildly that the passengers gasped.

Gladys (Napier) Corbin took a Mediterranean cruise in March which included visits to Cuba, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, Madeira, Gibraltar, Casa Blanca, several stops in Egypt, and from Egypt to Israel where she visited Bethlehem, Jerusalem and the Mount of Olives.

Adelia Nicholson is recovering from the effects of a fall in January. Her address is 523 Wilson Ave., Tallahassee, Fla.

Katherine (Suddath) Strbling suffered a serious illness during the Christmas holidays, but she has recovered. She was among the members of Alpha Delta Pi who gathered in Atlanta March 26, to dedicate the beautiful Memorial Headquarters recently opened there.

1912

Ruth (Arnold) Carter's son was named the most valuable basketball player in the state and made captain of the all state team. He finished the state tournament with an average of 33 points per game.

1913

Cornelia (Adams) Heath left Macon in May for an extended European tour.

Emma (Drew) Clay's son, Dr. Calder B. Clay, Jr., was one of the panel members when the Bibb County Medical Society held a Health Forum in March.

Mary Dudley (Fort) Colley is one of the delegates elected to represent her church at the General Conference of the Methodist Church to be held in Minneapolis in 1956. A beautiful tribute was paid to Mary Dudley as she ended eight years as president of the W.S.C.S. of the North Georgia Conference. The tribute, written by Dorothy (Rogers) Tilly, '01, was fashioned along the idea of the poem by John Oxenham entitled "Great Heart."

Kathleen (Holder) Griffin this spring took a modern form of an African safari—a journey de luxe—with the party traveling in big cars chauffeured by English speaking natives. On her way home, she boarded a plane in Cairo, on which she had Eleanor Roosevelt as a fellow-passenger.

Florence Glenn Smith continues to teach a large class of piano students. Her address is 1203 No. Jefferson, Jackson, Miss. She is Recording Secretary of the Jackson Music Teachers' Association, Program Chairman of the MacDowell Music Club, and is one of four pianists who play for the Hemingway Bible Class.

Sympathy is extended to Iola (Wise) Stetson in the death of her brother, Capt. Lamar Wise, in May.

Sympathy is extended to Ruth (Beeland) Jackson in the death of her mother in April. Her husband is the new president of the Macon Methodist Board of Missions and Church Extension.

Margaret Vardell, daughter of Eleanor (Ferrill) Vardell, and granddaughter of Margaret (Smith) Ferrill, 1888, has been awarded a Fulbright scholarship for ten months study in Frankfurt, Germany, where she will study organ and baroque instruments. She is at present head of the Organ Department of Salem College. She received her Masters in composition at Eastman School of Music, and has taught at Oberlin, and at the University of Texas. In 1952 she received the North Carolina award for composition. Her father is now Dean of Flora McDonald School of Music, Red Springs, N. C.

Katherine (Reynolds) McCook's son participated in the Atlantic Fleet amphibious training operations in the Caribbean in the spring. Katherine has a brand new grandson, Paul Bacon, Jr., son of her daughter, Katherine McCook Bacon.

Harriet (Robeson) Lovett writes "Yes, we've moved. The husband has retired and the son is starting a nursery. We have a nice little white house on a hill half way between Rome and Calhoun. We see mountains from the porch, and a big creek runs through the back yard." Her address is Rte. 1, Adairsville, Ga.

Hazel (Rogers) Barker, who is chairman of the International Music Relations Committee for the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs, attended their annual meeting in Augusta in March.

1917

Ruth Elder is the new president of the Quill Club, an organization of writers in Macon.

1918

Ruth (Houser) Garrett was a delegate from her chapter of the D.A.R. to the Continental Congress, Washington, D.C.

Sue (Tanner) McKenzie's son, Harold, Jr., was on the honor roll of the Emory University Law School for the spring quarter.

Ruth (Burns) Smith has two sons. One is a major in the Air Force, the other a doctor. Ruth's address is 403 N. Park Ave., Tifton, Ga.

Sarah (Forbes) Morgan is a proud Grandmama, boasting about her nine grandchildren. The newest one, Stephen Lewis Morgan, was born in January. Another son, Thomas Whitsett Morgan, was married to Wyolene Ledford of Vienna June 12.

Becky (Caudill) Ayers' son, who is doing his first years work toward a Ph.D. in math at Stanford has been awarded a National Science Foundation Fellowship for next year. Becky's eighth book is just off the press, and she is working hard on another. She has just finished two years as president of her W.S.C.S. and though it has meant a mountain of work, she writes that she greatly misses the contacts with the other women of her church.

Gerry, 17-year-old daughter of Ida Mallory (Cobb) Floyd, is the youngest member of the Board of Directors of the Atlanta chapter American Red Cross. She was elected Junior Red Cross representative.

Sympathy is extended to Dixie (Faust) Williams in the death of her husband, Edward Thayer Williams, in May. Catherine Williams, 1913, is a sister.

Startling difference in the I. Q. of children whose mothers had taken vitamins during pregnancy and those who had none proved a very interesting part of the report from Teachers College, Columbia University. The seven-year study covered 2,400 expectant mothers and 1,699, of their children. Ruth (Flinn) Harrell, 1920, was one of the two psychologists in charge of field tests, examinations and preliminary statistical analysis.

Lila (Lambert) Holliday died March 10 at her home in Athens, Ga.

Grace (Laramore) Hightower sailed May 7 for an extended cruise to the Mediterranean followed by travel through Italy, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Holland, England and Scotland.

Sue Ellen (Morton) Boyette's son is a junior at Mercer University now. He is a frequent visitor at Sue Ellen's Alma Mater too!

Beulah (Smith) Jelks' older son, who was graduated from Southern College of Optometry, Memphis, Tenn., last June, has been doing graduate work at the Chicago College of Optometry. He was on the program of the Great Lakes Optometric Congress held in May. The younger son, a senior at Duke, spent eight
